We are asking corporations to continue AOPCT's mission of saving and improving the lives of children, youth and adults around the world.

As a corporate partner of AOPCT, organizations will make a public statement that they are Socially Responsible. We are grateful for their support and encourage you to utilize their products and services.

Businesses participate in our program by making financial donations and in-kind product donations which help AOPCT facilitates the melting down of street firearms and light weapons around the world, by providing advocacy and community awareness, by initiating cause marketing of their products and by offering AOPCT opportunities in their corporate grant programs.
